

Safeguarding Adults Multiagency Training “It couldn’t happen here...could it ?” ©

A one day workshop using drama and facilitated discussion groups

The aims of the workshop are to:

- Raise awareness of safeguarding adults & the issues of potential adult abuse
- Identify local responses to possible safeguarding adults issues.
- Encourage participants to evaluate their own practice and that of their own organisation so as to prevent abuse.

The training is hugely effective in providing an opportunity for up to 80 participants to :

- Observe how potential situations of safeguarding adults can occur
- Have small facilitated discussion groups linking together local policy, legislation such as the Mental Capacity Act and participants’ personal responses to the situations
- Consider how potential abuse can be prevented

The training considers potential safeguarding adults situations :

- Using scenarios in older peoples, disability & mental health services, in the community, residential and hospital settings.
- What might be considered abuse ? What can be done to prevent abuse?
- What are the local policy and procedures where safeguarding adults is an issue ?
- Benefitting from the extensive experience of the writers, director, facilitators and the use of professional actors; scenarios are realistic & engaging.
- Organisations offering this unique learning experience on a multiagency basis ensure that the important messages concerning safeguarding adults reach as many people as possible.
- Supported by an extensive handout pack which is adapted to the local area ensuring your approach to safeguarding adults is promoted

Why is this training so effective?

What does the training cover?

How can my organization benefit from this style of learning and development

Who is the training provider?

Marion Dakin Associates Ltd.

Marion Dakin has many years experience in delivering safeguarding adults training. Her background in social work, management & communication skills provides her with an in-depth knowledge of the issues.

NS Artistes provide the professional acting skills to bring the scenarios to life to be seen, heard and felt.

Contact: 07968 268 505

marion.dakin@fsmail.net

www.mariondakin.com

Innovative Approaches to Training & Development

Marion Dakin Associates Ltd

